A TASTE OF SPAIN IN THE HEART OF BRIXTON

In late 2012, our founder dreamt of bringing a taste of Spain to Brixton. Inspired by the rustic charm of Spanish tapas bars, he envisioned a place where friends could gather over small plates and glasses of sherry.

This dream became a reality in March 2013 with the birth of Gremio de Brixton. Nestled in the crypt of a functioning church, Gremio boasts a unique historical setting. Notably, former UK Prime Minister John Major, a Brixton local, was married at this very church, St. Matthew's, in 1970.

From the outset, Gremio has embraced a rustic atmosphere and warm hospitality, offering a delightful selection of homemade tapas from across Spain. Lee, our General Manager, joined the team in late 2014. A true host with a flamboyant personality and keen eye for detail, Lee aims to make everyone feel welcome, like they're stepping into his own home ("Mi Casa es tu Casa"). After a brief hiatus, Lee has returned to the helm at Gremio, ensuring an exceptional experience for all our guests.

Stephen, our Head Chef, is a master of his craft. He sources high-quality ingredients from all corners of Spain and takes pride in being creative. He crafts seasonal menus, adding his own unique touch to classic rustic dishes.

Gremio caters to a variety of needs, from intimate dinners for two to large group bookings and late-night revelry. We even host private events, and for the truly unique, we offer the option of hosting your wedding celebration in our historic crypt.

Whatever your occasion, our friendly staff are here to help.
Simply ask, and we'll be happy to assist you.

MUCHAS GRACIAS FROM LEE, STEPHEN, JUAN AND THE GREMIO TEAM
